

RETAIL PROPERTY

Helping retailers to make the best real estate decisions

WHO ARE WE?

As part of our specialist services for the retail sector, SA Law has extensive expertise in the requirements of retail property.

As retailers continue to dramatically evolve the way they use their property portfolio, SA Law helps clients to capitalise on opportunities and manage risks. Our retail property experts have helped to engineer success for many major brands that have extensive property interests.

As a retailer, you have a unique set of property objectives, and we can help you to achieve them. For example, we help retailers to expand, contract, reorganise and pop-up to stay ahead of changing consumer tastes, and economic and rental conditions. We also help online retailers to launch a high street presence, and help high street retailers to expand their online distribution operations.

Alongside your objectives, we can support you with full portfolio management, driven by proactive advice that protects and optimises your interests. This includes health-checking your property agreements, keeping you informed of key dates, and strategically advising on how your business can capitalise on legal reform. We also help you to react swiftly to challenges and changes as they happen.
